

When solving inverse functions, you are trying to find the angle that is associated to the given information.

They should always be between = negative  $\frac{\pi}{2}$  and positive  $\frac{\pi}{2}$ . If the values that you are looking for is not between these numbers, then you compare the angle measure to the top half